

WIFE TELLS OF INTIMACY WITH MAN HER HUSBAND SLEW

Oscar Olsen Came Home Only Two or Three Times a Year, But Guy Barringer Called on Her Four or Five Times a Week—She Doesn't Know Why.

Mrs. Ottilie Olsen "never thought" of employing a lawyer to look after her husband's legal interests after he had shot and killed Guy Barringer at Samsonville on December 30 of last year, but she drove Barringer to his own home after the shooting, which occurred at the Olsen home, and attended his funeral. She has been married to Oscar Olsen since 1904; she had known Guy Barringer five or six years, and during her residence at Samsonville for several years he had visited her home four or five times a week; Olsen came home from Brooklyn only two or three times a year.

Mrs. Olsen was the principal witness examined before Judge Joseph M. Fowler and a jury Wednesday afternoon in county court, where her husband was placed on trial for murder in the second degree. Mrs. Olsen testified she did not see the shooting of Barringer, who was alone with her husband in her bedroom. The dying declaration of Barringer, which was taken at the samsonville on the afternoon of December 31 stated that Olsen shot him as he re-entered the kitchen after having gone outside the house for a few minutes, but that there had been no dispute between them. Barringer died that night just as the bells and whistles in Kingston were ushering in the New Year 1921.

The Olsens are native of Norway. Olsen is of medium height and build, with dark hair and eyes, and a face which seldom changes its expression. From the time the work of selecting a jury began on Tuesday he has rarely looked up but has sat most of the time with eyes cast down. Mrs. Olsen is not attractive looking except her complexion, which has the clear, healthy look of Norwegian women. She has blue eyes and fiery red hair. Her face is expressionless most of the time except for her eyes which are keen and constantly roving. She speaks English well but not fluently but at times does not understand.

Did Not Know Husband's Address. Her husband, she said, worked in Brooklyn, coming home two or three times a year. On cross-examination she said she did not know where he worked in Brooklyn, she never asked him. She did not know the name of the firm he worked for or how long he had worked there. She knew he was a carpenter.

Several days before Christmas she received a letter from Olsen stating he was coming home, and he arrived at Kerhonkson, the nearest railroad station, the Wednesday before Christmas. Between that time and the day of the shooting they went out several times with Barringer in the latter's five passenger Ford car. The night before the shooting they went with Barringer to the Haverhill, acquaintances, but the car broke down half a mile from the house when they were returning and they walked home.

Barringer's Afternoon Call. There were a couple of barrels of cider in the Olsen cellar, she said, and Olsen drank it every day he was home. The day of the shooting he began drinking it about 11 o'clock in the morning. About two o'clock that afternoon while she was hanging out clothes at the side of a house, Barringer arrived with a horse and sleigh and after fastening his horse to a tree went in the kitchen, into which the front door of the house opened. Barringer asked if Johnnie, her son, was home, as he wanted his help in moving the automobile. Johnnie was at Samsonville at the time. Olsen was sitting at the kitchen table when Barringer entered. A pair of cider was on the table. Olsen sat in a chair nearest the back door. Barringer took a chair beside the front door. Mrs. Olsen sat in a chair across the table from Olsen, between the two barrels.

Mrs. Olsen asked Barringer if he had ever and himself went to the cellar for it, handing a glass of it to Barringer and placing Olsen's glass on the table. Later she told her husband to go to the cellar for another pair of it. Neither Olsen nor Barringer were drunk, she said. She asked Barringer if he would take her to Gunderson's and he asked how many were going. Her husband said "I don't suppose you care if I go or not," and she replied, "If you don't want to go, you don't have to."

They sat at the table talking and drinking cider about an hour, she said. There was no quarrel between the two men. Olsen did not talk much; the talking was done by Barringer and himself. It was between 1 and 2 o'clock when Barringer came in.

After they had talked some time she went to her bedroom to change her dress. To reach her room she passed through another room where entrance door was alongside her chair.

Went Down Barringer's Stairs. While she was in her room she heard two shots fired. As she opened the door, Barringer came running toward her from the kitchen, saying he was shot. He fell down near her doorway. He said he wanted to see his mother, to be taken home. Mrs. Olsen did not see any blood until she picked him up. She found up his arm with a pillow case and belt. After she had picked up Barringer she saw her husband standing in the kitchen door. He came in the sitting room, which adjoined the bedroom, and was standing there as she helped Barringer out of the house. As they passed into the kitchen she heard another shot fired behind her and saw smoke. She drove Barringer to his home.

Barringer Was Frequent Visitor. Cross-examined by Francis C. Merritt, Olsen's attorney, Mrs. Olsen said she knew Mrs. Marie Halverson, Martin Eckert and Frank Veechich, but never had visited Veechich's saloon in company with Barringer. She had visited Veechich's grocery at Tongore in company with Barringer. It was some time since Veechich ran a saloon.

Barringer visited her house, she said, sometimes once a week, sometimes twice a week. Later, she said, he came four or five times a week. He was there just as much when her husband was at home as when he was in Brooklyn. Sometimes Barringer came in the morning, sometimes in the afternoon, sometimes in the evening. Her husband never said anything to her about Barringer coming to the house, "but he did to everybody else," she added.

"Did Olsen object to other men coming to the house?" asked Mr. Merritt.

"He didn't say much about it," she replied.

Olsen never told Barringer in her presence he did not want him running there. When she left the two men to go to her bedroom, she did not make any remark to Barringer, and she did not see him go anywhere. The door leading outdoors was shut and she did not hear it opened or shut afterward. The cider barrel was in the cellar almost directly beneath the place where Barringer sat; there was no carpet on the floor and a person in the cellar could hear anybody walking across the room and also could hear people talking in the room but could not distinguish what they said.

Mr. Merritt tried repeatedly to get Mrs. Olsen to admit that while her husband was in the cellar getting the second pair of cider she had made some remark to Barringer or had walked over toward his chair, and that Olsen's air and appearance were changed when he came from the cellar, that she appeared angry. Mrs. Olsen said she had talked to Barringer while her husband was in the cellar but could not recall what was said; she may have walked across the room; Olsen did not drink any cider from the pair he brought upstairs.

Barringer was there from about two until four o'clock, but during that time she and Barringer did most of the talking, Olsen not saying much. After the shooting, she drove Barringer home and stayed with him until the doctor came. She did not return home to see whether anything had happened to her husband from the last shot.

Attended Parties With Barringer. Barringer came to the house the night that Olsen arrived home. She had been out with Barringer the previous night. When she went with him, they went to parties and dances, sometimes to Kerhonkson. She could not tell how much time they spent together. While he was in the army she did not write to him. She attended his funeral.

"While your husband has been in jail, have you made any attempt to assist him, or procure means to help him get out to defend him?" asked Mr. Merritt.

Mrs. Olsen said she did not know what he meant.

Q. "While he was in jail, did you ever try to hire a lawyer for him?"

A. "No, I never thought of that."

Always Called Barringer "Gay." Barringer, she said, always called her "Mrs. Olsen," and never by her first name, but she always called him by his first name, "Gay." He often helped around the place, and it was going to get feed or anything else for her, she always gave him the money for it. She did not know why he came so often.

Q. "Did you ever tell him to stay away?"

A. "No, I told him to come away."

Q. "Did you ever tell Oscar that while he was away, Gay came almost every day?"

A. "I don't know if I told him, he knew it."

Q. "Did you tell Oscar who did come there?"

A. "No, if I didn't tell him, somebody would."

Her husband, she said, never told her he did not want Gay coming there.

Others Who Called. Mrs. Olsen said she knew David Smith, who used to come to the house, coming in every three or four days. Matthew Eckert used to come six years ago. She did not know John Petterson, and said that Wilson Gray never was in the house. The men together, she said, used to come in quite frequently.

The often went out with Barringer at night, sometimes coming home at two or three o'clock in the morning, but that was when she

CALENDAR FOR COUNTY ROADS

List of Roads to be Built Reported by Special Committee—Sagerties and Wawarsing Roads to be Built This Year.

The report of the special committee of the board of supervisors in relation to the expenditure of highway money, under section 320-a of the highway law, made Tuesday evening at the special meeting of the board, which was approved and adopted in as follows:

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors.

Gentlemen:—A committee of this board heretofore appointed on or about the 8th day of December, 1920, which by resolution adopted by said board on or about the 21st day of December, 1920, was directed pursuant to section 320-a of the highway law to recommend in what manner the moneys made available for the construction or improvement of town highways pursuant to section 320-a of the highway law shall be apportioned among the several towns; to recommend types of construction for the various highways proposed to be constructed, and the maximum amount per mile to be expended in the construction or improvement thereof, makes the following report:

We have carefully examined the map of the county of Ulster with relation to state and county highways which have already been constructed, or are in the process of construction at the present time; we have also taken into consideration the bill now pending before the legislature introduced by Mr. Hewitt, providing for the further construction of highways at the expense of the state, and at the joint expense of the state and county, with an idea of forming a system of roads to be constructed with the highways hereinbefore mentioned, will form a system of roads most advantageous to the county at large.

After much consideration we recommend that the following highways be constructed under the provisions of section 320-a of the highway law, within a period of approximately eight years; the total amount of mileage included within the proposed plan is approximately one hundred and seventy miles, which we would estimate would entail an expenditure of approximately $1,000,000 to construct; of this amount provision has already been made by this board for the expenditure for 1921, $75,000, leaving $925,000 to be expended during the ensuing seven years, or an average of approximately $133,000 per year.

Under the existing law known as the "Lowman bill," the maximum amount which the county of Ulster can receive for the construction of highway under provisions of section 320-a is $50,000. If the county of Ulster each year for the purpose and the town in which highways are constructed will make available twenty-five per cent of the cost of the roads to be constructed in these towns, sufficient funds will be available to complete the system within eight years, or within the estimate we have made.

The system of roads which we propose are described as follows:

No. 1—Town of Denning.

Beginning at the town line between the town of Shandaken and the town of Denning and running south westerly through the hamlets of Branch and Frost Valley to the Sullivan county line, a distance of approximately 9.5 miles.

No. 2—Esopus.

Beginning at Port Ewen at County Highway No. 310 near the post office, and running past the West Shore station at Port Ewen to County Highway No. 116, near New Salem, a distance of approximately 2.5 miles.

No. 3—Keopon.

Beginning at the proposed state highway leading to the Rondout creek bridge, and running westerly to the hamlet of South Rondout, a distance of approximately one mile.

No. 4—Esopus.

Beginning at the south end of County Highway No. 310 at the hamlet of Ulster Park and running westerly and northwesterly through Union Center and connecting with County Highway No. 116 at the hamlet of St. Remy, a distance of approximately 4 miles.

No. 5—Gardiner.

Commencing at the town line between the towns of Gardiner and New Paltz near Libertyville, and running southwesterly and southerly through the hamlet of Tishill, to the town line between the towns of Gardiner and Shawangunk, a distance of approximately 6.5 miles.

No. 6—Gardiner.

Beginning at a point near the traps on the proposed county highway running from Gardiner to Kerhonkson, and running thence westerly to the town line between Gardiner and New Paltz, a distance of approximately 1 mile.

No. 7—Hardsburgh.

Beginning at a point on the division line between the counties of Ulster and Sullivan, and running thence southerly through the settlement of Tawawong, to the Hardsburgh post office, a distance of about 2 miles.

No. 8—Hardsburgh.

Beginning at a point on the north end of County Highway No. 352, near Culler's Hotel in the settlement of Wurts, and running thence southerly and southwesterly along what is known as the Mountain Road, to the division line between the towns

KINGSTON MAN AGAIN HONORED

Judge Clearwater, Reappointed to Niagara Falls Reservation Commission, Confirmed by Senate After Enology by Minority Leader.

Governor Miller in sending his nominations to the senate for members of the public service commission and the New York city traction commission, included that of Judge Clearwater, president of the state reservation commission at Niagara Falls, to succeed himself. The judge originally was appointed by Governor Whitman in 1916, his term of office expiring this year. Since 1918 he has been the president of the commission, and has effected many reforms in the administration of affairs at Niagara Falls. There are five members of this commission, the others being Robert W. DeForest, president of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York city; Paul A. Schoellkopf, president of the largest hydraulic-electric plant in this country; Ansley Wilcox, a distinguished lawyer of Buffalo, and Robert H. Gittins, formerly mayor of Niagara Falls, and representative in congress from the Niagara district.

The commissioners serve for the love of the service, and without pay. In fact each one of them annually expends a considerable sum of money from his own purse in the entertainment of distinguished visitors at Niagara, and in incidental expenses for which the state does not provide. Last year, the commission, on Judge Clearwater's motion, erected a beautiful bronze tablet commemorative of the visit of the King and Queen of the Belgians not, as the judge said, because they were royal personages, but because of all the royal heroic figures of the world war the King and Queen of the Belgians were the most chivalric.

When the judge's nomination came up in the senate, the democratic minority leader, Senator Walker of New York city, in seconding Senator Walton's motion of confirmation, paid a glowing tribute to Judge Clearwater's public service to the state which he pronounced as of the highest and most important character, utterly destitute of selfishness and as characterized solely by a lofty aspiration for the best interests of the state. The nomination was at once unanimously confirmed.

PUBLIC MEETING FOR ZONING TALK

Rochester Man Who Knows All About It Will Address Kingston Folks On the Evening of April 27.

Edwin A. Fisher, Superintendent of City Planning of Rochester, will talk at the public meeting on zoning arranged for by the joint committee of the Common Council and the Chamber of Commerce, and which will be held at the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening, April 27th, at 8 o'clock.

This public meeting was provided for by vote of the Common Council when the subject of zoning was discussed recently in that body. It is the result of the purpose of the Common Council, Mayor Canfield, and the Chamber of Commerce to present full information in regard to the practical operation of zoning in other cities so that the people of Kingston may have opportunity to consider and form their judgment with respect to the merits of zoning before action is taken by the Council on a zoning plan for Kingston.

Mayor Palmer A. Canfield, Jr., will be chairman of this meeting and Alderman Schick, chairman of the Common Council committee and Arthur C. Connelly, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee will act as vice-chairman.

It is planned to make this meeting one in which there may be full discussion. Mr. Fisher will not confine himself to a formal presentation of the Rochester plan but will be prepared to answer questions and join in the discussion.

The Rochester system of designated Use Districts has been in operation since September, 1919, and has proved very satisfactory to the people of Rochester.

The special committee of the Common Council which in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce committee has charge of the arrangements for this public meeting consists of Alderman Schick, Macholdt, Lemister, Kirchner and Martin with Mayor Canfield.

Ulster Park Church Notes.

The Sunday school at Ulster Park will meet on Sunday morning at 9:30.

Morning worship at 10:30. The pastor will preach on "Kissed the Leper." The evening service will be at Union Center at 7:30 o'clock; the sermon subject will be the same as in the morning. At both services there will be a ten minute sermon to children.

The Christian Endeavor prayer meeting will be held at 7 o'clock at Union Center and at 7:30 at Ulster Park.

Road Meeting May 4.

The contract for the work on the New Paltz-Highland road will be awarded by State Highway Commission on May 4, when there will be a public hearing for the work on seven roads throughout the state.

A hearing for the same number of roads will be held on May 3.

BRYAN BITTER ABOUT BEER

Recent Ruling Permitting Physicians to Prescribe Beer and Wine for the Sick Is a Disaster, He Says.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, April 21.—The "drys" today swung into action for a final fight to prevent beer and wine sales on doctors' prescriptions. Congress is their objective. Their battle plans are drawn and are to be pushed with all the legislative cunning for which past prohibition victories have been noted. Under the leadership of William Jennings Bryan, the "drys" were brought together in a concerted move to compel an immediate reversal of a recent opinion of the department of justice, which threw into the discard some of the more stringent rules of the prohibition bureau. The "drys" today charge that the objectionable opinion, drafted for the treasury by former Attorney General Palmer, before he left office, is the "opening wedge of the wets to restore the liquor traffic."

Col. Bryan was particularly bitter today in discussing what he termed the disastrous results which may follow the Palmer opinion, authorizing beer and wine sales. In his opinion it will transform drug stores into wide open saloons. With other prohibition leaders, Col. Bryan arranged to make a vigorous drive at once upon the administration to "kill" the Palmer edict, and to talk the issue of beer and wine regulations.

From the treasury came word today that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon with general supervision in prohibition enforcement affairs, will decline to have a review made of the opinion under attack, but will proceed with haste to promulgate the regulations, placing beer and wine on the market for sale to those legally entitled to buy.

The "drys" have turned again to the attorney general, in the hope that he will voluntarily dig up the Palmer opinion, and reconsider the provisions in it which deny attack.

Resourceful "drys," failing in these moves, may take their fight to the president and ask him personally to intervene, it developed today. They assert that under the procedure existing the president could instruct the attorney general to reopen the whole subject.

The ground work for the drive upon congress was laid today by Mr. Bryan and other acknowledged prohibition chiefs, in personal talks with leaders at the capital. The quiet maneuvering developed an earnest purpose by the "drys" to press the matter of further tightening the Volstead law, as soon as possible, to upset the effectiveness of expected administrative regulations. The plan of the "drys" is to take forth the so-called exemptions in the Volstead law, governing liquors, wines and beers for medicinal purposes, relying on their strength in congress to spike them with amendments, so restrictive that they will make it almost impossible to obtain liquors for medicinal needs.

Legal experts of the "dry" leaders were set to work upon suggested changes in the law, ready to offer them if other attempts to annul beer and wine program meet with failure.

ABEEL STREET LANDSLIDE.

Occurred Late Wednesday Night, Blocking Traffic.

Wednesday evening shortly after 11 o'clock there was a landslide on Abeel street, near the city welcome arch, which blocked traffic until the slide was cleared away by the street department today. The police placed red lanterns as a warning on the slide for the night. A watchman employed near the slide was attracted to the scene by the noise and as he approached he saw an oncoming auto. He held up his hand in warning, but the driver of the car thinking it was a holdup man refused to stop and ran his car into a large boulder. No one was injured. Who was in the car was not ascertained. There have been a number of slides in this vicinity of late years, but this is the first to occur inside the city line.

NILES HAS THE FOX.

Owner May Call and Receive His Strayed Pet.

Wednesday afternoon, while six little girls were playing hide-and-seek around the Everett & Treadwell building on Broadway, near the West Shore crossing, discovered a fox, evidently a tame one, with a chain about its neck, the chain caught on a stone wall, over which it had jumped, the dragging chain getting fast on the wall. The children notified W. H. Niles at Everett & Treadwell's of their find and he took possession of the fox, which he will return to the owner if notified at the Everett & Treadwell wholesale house.

Railroad Traffic Delayed.

A cylinder on the engine hauling the U. & D. milk train blew out while the train was in the cut near Stony Hollow Wednesday morning, and the passenger train going up the road was fifty minutes late arriving at Poughkeepsie. The engine of the latter train pushed back the milk train to West Hurley and then ran back and picked up half of its train that had been disconnected in order to hasten the load.

U. S. Not To Be Represented.

By Telegram to The Freeman. London, April 21.—Neither Belgium, Italy, nor the United States will be represented at the conference at Hythe Saturday, the foreign office announced this afternoon.

MAY TRANSFER DRY ENFORCEMENT TO THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Plan Does Not Contemplate the Abolition of the Office of Prohibition Enforcement Officer, but the Department of Justice Will Enforce the Regulations Made by Him.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, April 21.—Reorganization plans now being considered by the new administration contemplate the transfer of prohibition enforcement from the treasury department to the department of justice, it was officially announced today by Secretary of Treasury Mellon. It is expected that the plan will go through and become effective in the near future.

While the job of enforcing the 18th amendment will be turned over to the department of justice, the transfer will not abolish the office of prohibition enforcement officer, now held by John F. Kramer, according to present plans. The treasury department will retain its prerogatives in the matter of drafting rules, regulations and permits, and the department of justice will be concerned only with the enforcement of those regulations.

Decision to make the department of justice the enforcement agent was made because there already is in the department a considerable investigation and law enforcement machine. This by expansion can be made to take in the work that has hitherto come under the treasury department.

The whole policy, it was said today is in line with the announced policy of the new administration to co-ordinate the activities of governmental departments and eliminate "over-lapping" work.

RIVETING STEEL BRIDGE TOWERS

The work of riveting the big steel tower on this side of the Rondout creek will be completed this week, and next week the work of riveting the tower on the Esopus side of the creek will be taken up. The Esopus tower is twenty feet higher than the tower on this side of the creek.

It is expected that the strands for the big suspension cables will arrive on the ground between now and May 15. In the big main cable there will be about 1,900 strands which will be all woven together in one big strand by hand with the weavers working from a footbridge that will be swung across the creek between the two big towers. It is also expected that the force of men employed on the construction work will also be increased shortly.

SHE TOOK TWO DRINKS.

And Then Her Friends Called in the Undertaker.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, April 21.—Two small slips of bootleg whiskey caused the death of Josephine Itashan, 32, according to her fiancé, George Ferger, 42, who is under arrest pending autopsy. The couple were to be married Saturday. Ferger told the police that on his way to the young woman's home he met a bootlegger who sold him a half pint of alleged whiskey for $1.50. He gave his fiancée two drinks and took one himself. Miss Itashan died a few hours later. He offered to drink the rest of the bottle to show that it was not poison, but the police are having it analyzed.

At Rummage Sale.

As has been mentioned before, there is at the rummage sale being conducted by the ladies of St. John's Episcopal Church at 575 Broadway, an excellent good-sized cabinet organ and a large victrola. Another special feature of this particular sale is the large numbers of baby garments of all sorts as well as much excellent clothing for boys and girls. The hat sale was such a success from the very start that scarcely a single hat remains to be sold. Every day new articles are brought to the sale, so it will pay anyone well to stop in and see what bargains they can find. The sale will continue tomorrow and Saturday up to 10 o'clock in the evening.

Back to the Reformatory.

Parole Officer Vesburgh escorted George Delaney from the Ulster county jail Wednesday to the Elmira Reformatory, to remain until discharged according to provisions of the penal law. Delaney, who had been an inmate of that institution, was paroled, but broke his parole by stealing an automobile of George Ferger in this city, taking it to Saugerties, for which he was arrested and turned back to the reformatory.

Asked to Explain.

Fully 300 men were at the court house Wednesday evening en masse from the Federal government to explain why they had not made out their income tax report. Deputies of the Federal Income Tax Department were present to hear their explanations. Nearly all were men who had been employed on the West Shore and other railroads during 1920, the Federal government having kept a record of their pay.

WAR WILL END WITHIN A WEEK

Knox Resolution, Once Passed, and Vetted by President Wilson, Expected to Be Passed and Approved.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, April 21.—Within the next week Republican leaders of congress expect the long-existing technical state of war between the United States and the Central Powers (Germany and Austria) to have been ended by a congressional resolution.

The Knox resolution, passed for that purpose by the last congress, but vetoed by former President Wilson, will be reported favorably today to the senate by the senate foreign relations committee according to the plan evolved by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, chairman of the committee and Republican leader of the senate, after consultation with President Harding.

In Senator Lodge's judgment, the Knox measure will encounter few obstacles in either the senate or house. He expects it to be passed by the senate in the next few days, and by the house before the end of next week. He predicts it will receive the solid support of the entire Republican majority in both chambers.

ANNUAL GRILL FOR ASSESSORS

With very few exceptions, if any, every town in the county was represented by its assessor and supervisor at the meeting of representatives of the State Tax Department held at the supervisors' room at the court house, this morning, which opened about 11 o'clock. Deputy Commissioner L. K. Rockefeller of Columbia county opened the meeting by telling the assessors and supervisors of its purposes. Slips were passed around on which the representatives of the towns and city of Kingston were to write their names and addresses.

J. W. Leyden, W. B. Stanbrough and E. S. Ford, from the state tax department, assisted Deputy Commissioner Rockefeller. Each assessor had been sent a blank to fill out with a statement indicating all sales of real estate in his town during the past two years, stating amount received by seller and also the assessed valuation made by the assessor. Each assessor will be called and asked as to the percentage of assessment to real value.

BLAIR HEADS INTERNAL REVENUE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, April 21.—David H. Blair, of Winston Salem, N. C., will be the new commissioner of Internal Revenue. "Formal announcement was made today by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon that he had recommended the Blair appointment to the president, and said the nomination would go to the senate this week.

Blair has been a prominent and wealthy business man of Winston Salem for years. He is also an attorney, and has been identified with Republican politics in the state for some years.

The decision to appoint the North Carolinian solved one of the most difficult appointment problems that has confronted the president. The applicants for the position were so numerous that the president some days ago turned the matter over to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and it became known that the treasury department would finally make the selection.

The commission of Internal Revenue is regarded as one of the most important posts in the government service outside of the cabinet itself. The position pays $10,000 a year.

We do recommend, however, that the maximum amount to be expended per mile on any road, out of the moneys made available by the county, state and town pursuant to the previous resolution of this board, be the sum of $5,000.00.

It is not our intention, however, that any town shall be limited to the expenditure per mile of that amount, providing the additional cost of construction is provided for by the town in addition to the amount made obligatory upon the town by the previous resolution of this board.

We have, in the preparation of this map, and in the formulation of this report constantly advised with the county superintendent of highways, and accepted his advice and opinion relative to the matters reported upon.

We have also carefully investigated the situation of the various towns as to their being provided with adequate and necessary machinery for the proper expenditure of the moneys made available, and as called for by the law, and the resolution of the board of supervisors adopting this report.

the following recommendation as to the apportionment of the sum of $75,000.00 available for construction in the year 1921.

To Be Built This Year. We recommend that in the year 1921 the following highways be improved:

First.—The highway in the town of Saugerties, designated hereby as Nos. 21, 22 and 23, a total of 4 1/2 miles at an expenditure of $8,000 per mile, the construction to be by the town of Saugerties, and that there be appropriated therefor out of the funds available from the state and county, the sum of $27,000, and we further recommend that the work commence at the Greene county line and proceed southerly.

Second.—The highway in the town of Wawarsing, designated as No. 44 a distance of approximately ten miles, such construction to be made at the corporation line of the village of Wawarsing, and to proceed toward the Sullivan county line; the construction to be a Wawarsing-Sullivan road and to cost not exceeding $1,000 per mile, and that there be appropriated out of the funds available from the state and county share, the sum of $10,000.

SELLING THE NOTE

Because Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, founder of the modern Christian Science sect, was called "the thrice married female Trismegistus" in an article dealing with the history and development of Christian Science, one of the largest publishing houses in America has stopped the sale of the fourth volume of a history of American literature. The Vassar College professor who thus described her explains that the reference related to an imaginary character alluded to by writers of antiquity, and that Mrs. Eddy was in fact married three times. However, the appellation is offensive to the leaders of the sect, which claims a following of several million members.

There are many million believers in the Christian religion who do not believe in Christian Science. The followers of Mrs. Eddy do not agree with the doctrines of other denominations. Sincere adherents of one denomination frequently denounce other denominations in terms which not only are spiteful but which indicate aversion if not actual hatred. To other creeds, such as Mohammedanism, Buddhism, Hinduism and others, they apply scurrilous terms and inwardly regard the faithful adherents with the utmost opprobrium. The uncomplimentary thoughts and words frequently are returned measure for measure. Yet all religious belief is based on a desire to improve human character to such an extent that the soul of man may continue to develop after passing from the earthly body and enjoy unending bliss.

In the development of character which shall prepare the human for immortality, it seems necessary, however, among all creeds to scorch the feelings of those who are seeking the same ultimate goal by other paths. It is doubtful if the actual founders of religious creeds ever practiced or countenanced such performances. At the same time men should be free to think and criticize freely what they believe are errors, even to the extent of invoking ridicule. For all accusations there should be a basis of fact which too often is lacking.

A man's religious beliefs, like his other thoughts, cannot be controlled. His religious beliefs should not be criticised unless the critic in turn is willing to accept criticism without becoming resentful. The term used in describing Mrs. Eddy is far less objectionable than the words used almost daily by clergymen occupying prominent positions in describing men who disagree with them, particularly in the United States and especially by Anti-Saloon Leaguers. In fact, public vituperation appears to be confined to the Leaguers. Religion or morals impressed by bulldozing does not have a lasting effect and the reaction is worse both for the individual and the human race than any temporary benefit brought about through fear. Forbearance and self-control evidently have ceased to be a part of religious training among some of the denominational leaders.

STOOPING TO SLANDER

France is not trying to heal her war wounds, but leaves them exposed with a view to excite sympathy. She is like the beggar who is at pains to keep his sores open in order to attract the eye of almsgivers. France is doing nothing to reclaim the devastated regions, wishing to keep them as they are in the hope of thus being able to induce the nations to back her up in extorting gold from unhappy Germany. Such is the tale that is now told—a tale on a level with the sneaking pro-German propaganda who go about whispering lies, but a tale that will bring the dignity of the foreign minister of a country that hopes to win back the world's respect. Yet Dr. J. S. S. Germany's spokesman, has actually stooped to such baseness in a communication to our State Department as to say that Germany must be made to pay for her belated destruction.

France has not waited for Germany money from Germany wherewith to begin the great task of rebuilding. According to Paul Cernat, whose intimate knowledge of French affairs is vouched for by the New York Times, the French government has provided about 35 milliards (billions) of francs for the reconstruction of the area, systematically devastated by the Germans, and what has been accomplished in two years is "little short of marvelous." But if France can afford all this, why should those who wrought the ruin be made to pay anything? Doubtless this will be Berlin's next argument, on being confronted with the facts. Of course France would not have had the courage to add this heavy load to her back-breaking war debt unless she had expected within a reasonable time large reparations payments from the criminal authors of the devastation.

The decision of the House of Representatives to investigate the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the draft dodger, is somewhat belated but the investigation, nevertheless, should be thorough. The wealth and prominence of the Bergdoll family should not deter the committee from getting all the facts. Considerable importance seems to be attached to a statement alleged to have been made by an army officer that he informed the Military Intelligence Bureau he had recognized Bergdoll in Berlin while the American forces were there. But back of this angle of the case are the more important circumstances which led to his escape. To the ordinary individual it seems incredible that intelligent officials should have allowed Bergdoll to lead his custodians on a fantastic trip for buried gold, which furnished the opportunity for him to escape. The intelligence of such officials might properly be a subject of investigation.

Taxes always seem burdensome because such a large part of the money goes for benefits which are unseen. But government cannot exist without taxes, so people will always be compelled to pay them. Taxes are high now. There is little likelihood that they will become less. Everybody must pay taxes. Personal habits of thrift make tax-paying easier, but steady employment and profitable business, which insure a regular income, are the highest factors. Federal, state and local taxes fall alike on employer and employee, so it is to the interest of both to maintain stability of business conditions. Neither an idle employer or employee can meet his tax or any other obligation.

2. I would like to know where the mud hen lays her eggs?
3. When did the famous elephant, Jumbo, die?

Answers in Tomorrow's Nature Notes.

Answers to Previous Questions.

1. Which sort of creature is older, in the world's history, cold-blooded or warm-blooded animals?

The cold-blooded animals preceded the warm-blooded variety. Cold-blooded creatures had (and still have) scaly or tough leathery skins. In the course of evolution when hairs were developed in place of scales, they afforded the creatures wearing such a coat some degree of warmth that allowed them to be more active. The body temperature gradually rose, and this type of animal proved superior in power, and outnumbered the other type.

2. Does a skunk bark?

The skunk is the most silent creature known to me. He makes no sound so far as I have observed, except a diffuse, impatient noise like that produced by beating your hand with a whisk broom, and only makes when he is disturbed, as when a dog has discovered his retreat in the stone fence.

3. What does the English sparrow's food consist of?

The sparrow is a bird, with a stout bill for crushing seeds. Much of its food is weed seed. In cities it takes quantities of waste from the streets. It eats some insects also and once was known where outbreaks of cat worms or army worms have been checked by English sparrows. In Utah it has been helpful in eating alfalfa weevils. It also attacks berries and small fruits, buds and blossoms of cultivated plants, grass seed and young vegetable shoots.

ARE YOU CONGENIAL?

Thin-Blooded, Sick-Looking Men and Women Lack Enthusiasm

THEY NEED PEPTO-MANGAN

Red-Blooded, Healthy-Looking Folks Get Along Well Because They Feel Good

There is a thrill in glowing good health. You see it in the enthusiasm and good cheer of congenial people. Fatigue, bad color, dull eyes and listless feelings do not attract other people. You are not congenial when you are run down.

Nearly everybody gets out of sorts occasionally. They are positively unhappy for weeks and constantly tired and gloomy. Perhaps you are that way and can see no reason why. But there is a reason. More than likely it is because of bad blood. Temporarily your blood needs help. Pepto-Mangan is a well-known and very successful remedy for poor blood. It supplies what your blood needs. You pick up and become your old self again, your blood works as it should, keeping you fresh and alert, congenial and happy and strong.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in both liquid and tablet form. Both contain the same medicinal ingredients. One is as effective as the other.

Buy Pepto-Mangan at your druggist's. Be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package. Without the name "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan. Advertisement.

HOMESPUN YARN.

Fruits, fresh air and exercise are of more value than most advertised pills and potions.

An efficient, attractive house is an economic asset for the farmer, not useless extravagance as some seem to think.

And many folks not only eat dandelion greens in the spring, but they can't get, so winter menus can be jazzed up, too.

A grain binder costs more than a washing machine, but a washing machine puts in more than ten times as many busy days.

Health is one of life's greatest assets for success, good health squandered is sheer waste of efficiency and happiness.

So much to do in the spring that it seems there is no time to get out in the glorious sunshine. But you owe it to yourself and to your family to keep fit.

Some housewives have found the useless refrigerator a real money saver. The state college at Ithaca will give you directions for making one at small cost.

The manure spreader and the threshing machine don't belong in the front yard; neither should "shop talk" form the staple of conversation at the dinner table.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

Pattern 3386 is here illustrated.

It is cut in 5 sizes: 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 years. A two-year size will require 3 1/2 yards of 27 inch material.

Seersucker, galatea, drill, cambric, cingham and chambray are attractive for this style.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or 1c and 2c stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Send 15 cents in silver or stamps for our up-to-date spring and summer 1921 Catalogue, containing over 500 designs of ladies', misses' and children's patterns, a concise and comprehensive article of dressmaking, also some points for the needle (illustrating 20 of the various, simple stitches), all valuable to the home dressmaker.

RAILROAD TAX CASE HEARINGS

The certiorari proceedings of the New York Central Railroad Company to review the city assessment of 1920 of the West Shore and Wallkill Valley Railroads, is on for trial all this week at the city hall before Referee Herbert F. Roy of Troy. The West Shore Railroad is assessed about $580,000 and claims it should be reduced over $200,000. The city claims that the assessment is legal and fair. Amos Van Etten is attorney for the railroad and Corporation Counsel William D. Brunner and Counsel William D. Brunner and Counsel William D. Brunner represent the city. The 1915 assessment proceedings were tried before Referee George McClellan, former congressman of this district, and the trial occupied a period of four years, as the Ulster and Delaware Railroad intervened and certain phases of the proceedings went to the appellate courts. He made a decision favorable to the city, which was affirmed by the court. The railroad brought proceedings during the next four years and these were also referred to Referee McClellan, but none of the proceedings for those years has been tried. The proceeding now being tried involves the last assessment of 1920. It is expected that the trial will be practically completed this week. Both the railroad and the city have sworn railroad and real estate experts as to the value of the road. It is desired to obtain a decision before this year's assessment of the railroad is completed.

AT THE THEATRES.

Charles Ray at Keene's—Wm. S. Hart at Opera House.

That rare combination of a comedy with genuine thrills in it will be found in Charles Ray's first independent picture, "45 Minutes from Broadway," the attraction at Keene's tonight and Friday. In his ever popular play, considered by George M. Cohan the best he has ever written, thrills follow laughs with lightning rapidity, and the screen version is far superior to the stage play which ran for so long on its legitimate stages all over the country. "The Sign" a Christie comedy, is also programmed and a program news.

William S. Hart in "The Test Case" is featured at the Opera House for three days starting today. Mr. Hart is essentially a man's man in all his pictures, but in this remarkable offering he is a superman. "Fatty" Arbuckle in "A Reckless Yacht" is also featured for three days. He packs a trip full of laughs and you are welcome to your share.

Edna Bennett in "Her Husband's Friend" at the Auditorium tonight shows a photograph of delightful personality of this clever star. Miss Bennett has a role of a young wife who, when she becomes a widow, is unaware that her husband's best friend had promised to care for her. She has met and while the young widow believes that the money she receives comes from her husband's estate, the friend soon learns to acquire under the burden imposed on him. They meet in poor circumstances and present a hard case. How they travel the road of love makes a highly entertaining story. "Edna Bennett in 'The King of the Circus' is an exciting and novel and for the night show, Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Eugene O'Brien in "The King of the Circus" is an exciting and novel and for the night show, Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

PVT. REILLY BURIED TUESDAY

The remains of First Class Private John Gregory Reilly was buried with military honors on Tuesday in St. Peter's Cemetery at Rosendale. That morning at 9:15 o'clock the body was taken from the home of his parents at Maple Hill, where it had reposed in a flag-draped casket since last Thursday, and accompanied by scores of relatives and friends and comrades from Company M Veterans' Association, was taken to St. Peter's Church in Rosendale, where at 10 o'clock a high Mass of requiem was celebrated for the repose of his soul by his former pastor, the Rev. Edward J. Higgins.

The large church edifice was filled with relatives and friends who had gathered to pay the last honors to the memory of the dead hero. At the close of the Mass the Rev. Father Higgins paid a most eloquent and stirring tribute to the length of his loyalty to God and country.

Father Higgins likened his life to the passage from Scripture, "Greater love than this no man hath than to lay down his life for his friend." His friend, said Father Higgins, was his country, and struggling that it might not perish and that those at home might enjoy freedom and liberty he had nobly and willingly gone into battle, and on September 29, 1918, on the "Hindenburg" line in France, he had paid the price, sacrificing his young life on the altar of his country.

At the close of Father Higgins' eulogy, the choir sang "Nearer My God, Thee" and the casket carrying the remains was slowly borne from the church by Private Charles C. Van Ethen, and from the organ loft came the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner."

While the body of the dead hero reposed at the home of his parents the houses in the vicinity kept the flag he loved flying to the breeze, thus paying a silent respect to his memory.

The members of Company M Veterans' Association, with Major Frank L. Meagher and Lieut. R. C. Dittus and a firing squad in charge of Lieut. Matthew Bence, formed a guard of honor in the funeral cortege and at the church services. The floral offerings, which were beautiful and profuse, spoke a silent message of love and friendship from those he had left behind.

The casket bearers were in charge of Lieut. Charles T. Dixon and were Sergeant Parry, Sergeant James Howard, Privates Charence Mains, John Pallis and Edward DuBois. By a strange coincidence the last named, Private DuBois, was the one who had charge of the burial of Private Reilly in France.

Father Higgins accompanied the remains to St. Peter's Cemetery, where he conducted the services, after which the firing squad delivered three volleys over the grave and to the strains of "Taps" sounded by Bugler Frank Sass, the body was lowered to its last resting place.

Private Reilly enlisted with old Company M in 1917 and was later transferred to Company B, 107th U. S. Infantry, 27th Division, with which company he was sent to France and to which he belonged at the time of his death. He was very popular with his fellow soldiers on account of his good nature and jovial disposition.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Reilly, and three sisters, Jennie of Kingston, and Irene and Nathalie at home, and two brothers, William and Ignatius, at home.

ENDING TREATMENT OF BEDDING.

Particularly After a Winter of Colds and Influenza.

Bedding which has been in use during the winter months when influenza, pneumonia and colds have been prevalent needs careful attention in the spring, according to the home economics workers at the State College at Ithaca.

Unwashed blankets and quilts, and dusty or soiled mattresses and pillows may become a means of passing on colds, pneumonia, influenza or tuberculosis. But even when there has been no illness, all bed materials should be washed at least once a year, and always after illness before their use by another person.

As first aids in destroying disease germs, the housewife has soap and hot water always at hand. Sunlight is one of the most effective germ killers and the exposure of all bedding once a week to direct sunlight in the open air will do much toward keeping it in a wholesome condition. In addition to the sun bath, mattresses and pillows should have a thorough brushing, care being taken to brush under the tufting or buttons of the mattress.

If there is a serious communicable disease in the house, all bed linen should be either boiled for twenty minutes immediately after it is taken from the sick room or placed in a solution of formaldehyde for ten minutes and then washed. The solution can be made by mixing one pint of formaldehyde, as purchased from the drug store, with ten pints of water.

Badly soiled mattresses should be sent to a commercial steam sterilizer or burned.

In cases of highly contagious diseases, such as scarlet fever or diphtheria, the health officer may disinfect all room contents, including the bedding.

THE VICTORY MEDAL.

Clergy Asked to Aid in Procuring Applications For It.

In its efforts to place the Victory Medal in the hands of the veterans of world war, the war department has invoked the aid of the clergymen of the country. A letter from Colonel John T. Axton, chief of chaplains, has been sent to one hundred and fifteen thousand pastors of all denominations, asking that they direct the attention of ex-soldiers and their families to the fact that the Victory Medal is now being distributed and that application blanks may be secured from the commanding officer of any army post, camp or station, or from Victory Medal officers, who have replaced recruiting offices in most of the larger cities of the country.

Colonel Axton has already received many favorable responses to his request from the leaders in the religious world. Secretaries of the Y. M. C. A. and Knights of Columbus have also been asked to encourage application for this medal.

The high school had its own special prizes. The first prize was $5, the second $2.50 and there was a class prize of $2.50. The high school prize winners were Miss Ruth Dana, first prize, with a record of 96 per cent; Miss Ruth Scott, second prize, with a record of 95 per cent. While the sophomore class won the class prize.

Considerably before 8 o'clock the high school auditorium was filled with the parents and friends of the youthful contestants in Kingston's first musical memory contest, held through the efforts and enterprise of Miss Pauline Phillips, supervisor of music in our Kingston city schools. And both children and grown-ups arranged a most attractive stage, arranged in the form of a spacious music room, with the American flag overhead; art rugs under foot; a grand piano, a player piano, a Columbia, a New Edison and Beckwith talking machines, artistic furniture and electric lamps, palms and great vases of apple blossoms and flowering quince, for which, in the arrangement and furnishings the thanks of all are due Stock & Cordts. All of those participating in the program were seated on the stage, giving "The human touch."

And the people on the stage, in turn, looked at the winsome sight of over two hundred bright faced—even if a bit anxious—smiling boys and girls, than which no lovelier sight can be seen anywhere.

In opening the contest, Superintendent Michael said that this contest had been held in the grammar schools and high school of Kingston, through Miss Phillips' efforts in the hope that it would lead to a cultivated and sincere appreciation of all that is best in music, thus counteracting the effect of that "rag" music which is so often put over onto a rag time. Music should elevate, not degrade, and for that reason we should cultivate the highest in music. In the elimination contest, the committee and Miss Phillips realized that in a great measure these hopes had been realized, and Mr. Michael said he wanted the boys and girls who had taken any part in the contest who had worked hard for it as well as the teachers who had also worked hard to assist them, to know that it had been an honor to be a part of the contest.

Before beginning the playing or singing of the numbers, Mr. Michael further said he, in behalf of all who had taken part in arranging the contest, wanted to heartily thank all these firms who had contributed the use of instruments and performers for the evening, and who had so generously given of their time and services in their shops during the time of preparation. He also knew that all would extend a vote of sincere thanks to all who would play or sing during the evening, for their deeply appreciated cooperation.

It had been arranged that the parents and friends as well as the school children should have cards on which to write down the names heard, and after the giving of final instructions the contest began.

Stars and Stripes Forever, was played by the piano player from the W. H. Miller music store. Other numbers not played by one or other of the talking machines were, Schumann's "Träumerei" and Berceuse from Jocelyn by Godard, as the solo, wonderfully well played by Jacob Mallet of the Kingston Symphony Orchestra through the generosity of George Goldschlager, with Mrs. Edmund Cady at the piano. In fact, Mrs. Cady was the gracious and delightful accompanist of the evening. "The Swan" from "Tales of Hoffman" by Wagner, was sung with admirable interpretation, musical ability and real feeling, by Arthur Riffenbary, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Glendinning. This number was enthusiastically applauded, and it was a matter of note that the children in spite of their inattentiveness upon the test, found time to applaud their favorite numbers as given by the artists of the evening. As Mr. Riffenbary is a busy man, whose evenings are almost entirely taken up with musical engagements, his appearing on last evening's program was the more highly appreciated.

Another delightful vocal number was the Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria," sung by Mrs. H. F. Dunbar, accompanied by Mrs. Cady.

Miss Bessie Tobey very sweetly and pleasingly played on her violin Handel's "Largo," "The Swan," Saint Saens and Barcarolle from Tales of Hoffman.

The piano solos were "Morning," from Grieg's "Peer Gynt Suite"; "Largo," from the "New World Symphony" by Dvorak; Chopin's Nocturne in E Flat; Nareissus, by Nevin; with Mrs. Cady as the pianist, whose performance on this instrument always ranks her as a true artist.

After the twenty numbers had been played the papers were quickly taken up and the twenty-four members of the examining committee retired to their decidedly difficult task of passing on considerably over two hundred papers.

The wait for the verdict of "The Court," as Mr. Michael dubbed the examiners, would have been decidedly tedious had not Miss Phillips prepared a special program for this very event, and those participating generously, aided in stretching it out, while Miss Phillips herself showed her exceptional ability as a leader of community singing by leading the entire audience, boys and girls and parents and men in singing several loved songs.

Quite aside from becoming familiar with the forty musical compositions on the contest list, it is a note-worthy fact that over two hundred boys and girls have, through this experience learned to be intent, careful, quiet listeners, in itself a great accomplishment and valuable asset in life, where genuine concentration counts for so much.

After the judges had retired with the faithful papers there was a period of relaxation and enjoyment even for the most anxious boys and girls. Miss Phillips introduced Mrs. G. P. Rice, who representing the Federation of Women's Clubs spoke to those present on "The Federation and the Betterment of Music." Mrs. Rice very cleverly as it were, introduced the Federation of Women's Clubs, national, state and city of Kingston, to the audience, telling them what a large and widely progressive group of women it included. Then she told of the recent creation in the Federation, of a department of music, as the women of our country realized the importance of raising the standard of music the country over, especially in combating the evil of jazz and rag time near-music. So the Federation is doing all in its power to back up community singing and to secure more elevating music for our movie entertainments. The women are also working for the recognition of American musical composers and artists and the developing of talented American music students. This applies to the Kingston Federation as well as to the state and national body. In concluding Mrs. Rice said, "The Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs is proud of the showing made by the children in their trial contest; is proud of Miss Phillips, our supervisor of music, who was instrumental in bringing this contest about and who has worked so untiringly for the success of Kingston's first musical memory contest."

Then came the "Surprise," which The Freeman had given notice of in an earlier issue. Five lads from School No. 5, William Menzel, Kenneth Williams, Edgar Powley and Eugene Casor sang in parts, that lovely negro spiritual, "Swing, Low, Sweet Chariot," and sang it unaccompanied and remarkably well, calling forth most enthusiastic and prolonged applause.

Miss Phillips then announced that Mrs. Reed would talk to them about "The Greatest Musical Work." Mrs. Reed said that while it might well seem to both Miss Phillips and the contestants that preparing a musical memory contest was the greatest musical work possible, that was not what she had in mind. It had already been said that the contest was in the interest of culture, and the speaker then showed that a more familiar name for culture was happiness, but happiness on an ascending scale. The symphony was counted the highest, greatest musical work, for in the opera or the oratorio the listener must think the same thought as the composer expressed in words as well as music. In the symphony, where pleasure, sorrow, expectancy, romance, destiny, heroism, joy, etc., were pictured each hearer was inspired to think his own ideal thoughts about any one of these great subjects. Then some of the greatest symphonies were briefly described. The reason for our own Symphony Orchestra was shown to be the fact that the men and women who originally formed and still form that orchestra wanted others to enjoy the happiness they enjoyed from the great musical works they learned to know and love. Nor had the orchestra ever become so discouraged at the lack of public support that it had not been willing to go on working for the sake of the boys and girls of Kingston.

It was considered a matter for profound congratulation that sixty-two boys and girls in our public schools are now studying the violin, for that fact gives promise of our having a symphony orchestra of tomorrow, as well as an increased interest in symphonic music. All present were cordially invited to the coming Symphony Orchestra concert, especially the boys and girls, as it is expected that the symphony to be played will be included in the list of compositions for the next contest, for this is only the beginning of musical memory contests in Kingston.

In closing Mrs. Reed made plain to all present that Miss Phillips had, through this first contest, opened a gateway which would lead into a realm of highest happiness that could prove an inspiration and blessing through all the days of their lives. It was a gateway to the music and hearts of those who heard, not only last evening, but for weeks past, the music of the best composers.

From then on until the "verdict" was rendered, the delightful selections were sung by Mrs. Dunbar, played on the violin by Miss Tobey or sung by all present. Harry F. Dodge had hoped to get to the contest during the evening and assist, not only by singing one or two piano numbers, but by leading the community singing. Since he could not make it, Miss Phillips, tired though she was with all the manifold details and arrangements of the contest, led that audience in the singing of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." Mrs. Cady and Miss Tobey accompanied. Then and there Miss Phillips showed her gifts as a leader of Community Singing, and our boys and girls showed how they could sing worth while songs under right leadership, for it must be admitted that the singing of the parents would never have passed them through any music contest. Several other songs were sung.

It was an exceedingly difficult task that the examiners had, and it had to be done with all possible dispatch, but even so it was quite past ten o'clock when the announcement was made as to the successful contestants. Because of the closeness of the hour and the fact that today is another school day, Mr. Michael ruled that the children and strangers to see the contest and strangers to see the contest of today at the high school, the first boarding instruments, and Mrs.

Cady and Miss Tobey kindly consenting to be present to play for this final supreme effort.

Miss Phillips has asked The Freeman to express to every single person who in any way whatever has assisted in the working out of this first Musical Memory Contest, her most profound thanks and appreciation, since it required all of this manifold co-operation to bring the contest to a successful close.

REPORT ADOPTED BY SUPERVISORS

Highway Improvement Schedule For 1921 Reported by Special Committee Bill Be Adhered to—After Concluding Business Board Adjourns

Supervisor Schermerhorn, at the session of the board of supervisors Wednesday evening, offered a resolution that the report made on Tuesday evening by the special committee in relation to the expenditure of highway moneys be amended in that Highway No. 42 in the report be substituted for Highway No. 41. The latter is the highway recommended to be constructed in the town of Ulster from Marx hotel Highway 42 is also in the town of Ulster beginning at a point on the Kingston-West Hurley state highway, near the Kingston bridge and runs northeasterly, northerly and westerly to the eastern end of road designated in the report as No. 10 at the division line between the towns of Kingston and Ulster, a distance of approximately three miles.

Supervisor Young raised the point of order that there was no petition from the town of Ulster for the road. There is no record certifying that there is any resolution from that town levying any money for the maintenance of such road. The highway law fixes that at a state demands it.

Supervisor Schermerhorn said that as the town of Ulster had petitioned for two roads the board of supervisors have the right to pick any road of the two. He moved the adoption of his resolution.

On the vote on the resolution it was lost: Ayes, 10, noes, 19. The vote was:

Ayes—Charlton, Miller, Partlan, Schermerhorn, Schick, Schuler, Shufeldt, Snyder, Van Etten, Van Valkenburg.

Noes—Auchmoody, Avery, Bogart, Conklin, Ellsworth, Ellis, Flemming, Fratscher, Heaton, McMullin, Quimby, Sagendorf, Schonmaker, Shaw, Upright, Van Aken, Wiedemann, Wilklow, Young.

Supervisors Young, Quimby, Fratscher and Schoonmaker called up the report of the special committee recommending the construction of roads Nos. 31, 32 and 33, town of Saugerties; No. 41 in town of Ulster; and No. 44 in the town of Wawarsing, and making available appropriations for improvement of these highways and providing for construction of same. Adopted, ayes, 30; noes, 0.

Supervisor Fratscher by consent introduced a resolution which was carried that, a determination of an agreement be made with the state highway department for the improvement of the aforesaid roads.

Other business transacted were reports by committees as follows.

Committee on highway accounts reported claims examined with recommendation that they be audited. Claimed, $424.69, allowed, $424.69. Filed and later called up and approved.

Committee on superintendent of poor account, reported Claimed, $1,413.27; allowed, $1,413.27. Filed and later called up and approved.

Committee on printing reported. Claimed, $252.75; allowed, $252.75. Filed and later called up and approved.

Committee on sheriff's accounts reported: Claim of former Sheriff Smith, $1,507.20; allowed. Filed and later called up and approved.

Committee on town and county accounts reported that claims of Charles A. Collins and Michael De Cicco for sensing and killing dogs were correct for audit. That their bills were not made out in legal manner and recommended they be sent to County Attorney Eckert to instruct the claimants to make the bills out according to the statute. Approved.

An agreement between the town of Wawarsing to issue bonds in $10,000 to pay for highway resurfacing, was given a third reading and passed; ayes, 31; noes, 0.

An agreement between the town of Rosendale and the D. & H. Company for filling in portions of old canal bed was, on motion of Supervisor Auchmoody, ratified by the board.

Supervisor Auchmoody called up the resolution that there be appropriated on the county $1,050 for county's share of increased cost of highway improvement in Rosendale. Adopted.

Supervisor Young called up the resolution that there be appropriated $1,325 and paid Ulster County Farm Bureau Association. Adopted.

The resignation of Lester L. Sazendorf and Charles C. Upright as members of the committee on superintendent of poor accounts, was presented; also of Frank M. Brink as a member of the committee on purchase of rights of way. On motion of Supervisor Fratscher they were accepted.

Chairman Sax then announced the appointment of the three supervisors as members of the county highway officials. This is a new creation under the state highway law, the officials to act in conjunction with the county superintendent of highways and act on all matters pertaining to highway questions that may arise.

On motion of Supervisor Fratscher the board of supervisors then adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

FARM AND HOME BUREAU MEETINGS

Largely Attended Community Meeting at West Shokan Tuesday—Dress Form Demonstrations Popular.

A community meeting held at Coe's Hall at West Shokan Tuesday night under the auspices of the Ulster County Farm and Home Bureau was largely attended and proved most enjoyable to all who attended. The community sing was led by Mr. Eppes of Accord and was enjoyed thoroughly by everyone, as community singing always is when led by Mr. Eppes.

The principal speaker of the evening was Miss Jennie C. Jones, assistant state leader of Home Bureau, whose subject, "Laws Women Should Know," was of particular interest to the audience. The lecture was given as part of the Home Bureau program for that community, which is studying civics. Manager Chase of the Farm Bureau also spoke briefly on the work which the Farm Bureau is doing at the present time. Demonstrations Popular.

A Home Bureau meeting held at West Hurley Tuesday afternoon was well attended. Miss Stuart, manager of the Home Bureau, giving a demonstration of the construction of the home-made dress form.

The dress form demonstrations given by Miss Stuart are proving very popular, and a similar meeting held at Rosendale on Monday had a large attendance.

Valuable Jack Pine.

There are many qualities of the Jack Pine which recommend it for a continuous forest crop. It is extremely hardy and grows on the poorest soils. It reproduces better than any other conifer in eastern Canada as is evidenced by the way it replaces other woods following cutting or fire. It grows rapidly and under natural conditions will attain pulpwood size in a shorter time than spruce or balsam.

ROTARIANS STAGE A BOXING MATCH

Gregory and Seeley as Referee and Timekeeper, Respectively, Were in Charge—Major Chandler Talks of Police History, Methods and Maps.

Notwithstanding the fact that John H. Gregory of this city promoted, managed and refereed a boxing match of which the Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley was timekeeper, at the Indian Valley Inn on Wednesday evening, Tex. Rickard need have no fear, as it was not his kind of a boxing match. The occasion seized by Mr. Gregory and Dr. Seeley for putting on their boxing match was the monthly evening dinner and ladies' night of the Kingston Rotary Club, which was attended by about eighty persons from this city. After a dinner at which about fifty different kinds of food were served, ranging from oysters to roast turkey, the boxing match was put on, the boxers being Arthur C. Connelly, William Dugan, W. Davis Hawk, S. D. Scudder and Harry W. Weber. Each boxer was equipped with material and tools and set to work constructing a small box with hinges, etc. Mr. Gregory, as referee, passed on the construction of the boxes and Dr. Seeley called time. Wicker won first prize in 7½ minutes and received an electric reading lamp. Hawk won second prize, a handsome tray; time, 8 minutes. Scudder, who had seemed hopelessly distanced early in the game but who followed a method of construction that enabled him to make a quick finish, won third prize, a flower bowl; time thirteen minutes. Dugan would have won third prize for the fact that the end dropped out of his completed box when he lifted it for inspection and Connelly might have tied Dugan if the side had not dropped out of the box he built.

Major George F. Chandler, the speaker of the evening, talked informally and briefly about police in general and the state police in particular. Uniformed police began work when Sir Robert Peel succeeded in getting an act passed by parliament in 1829. "Bobbies" and "Peelers" as applied to policemen originated in this fact. The Royal Irish Constabulary, established a few years later, were the first uniformed rural police. Then came the Canadian Northwest Mounted, followed by the Texas Rangers. Pennsylvania established a state police and in 1917 New York did the same.

Major Chandler said that when he took charge and began to organize a force it seemed that every district attorney and in fact everybody else in the state was opposed, but after the police had been at work and communities and officials found they got only what they asked for, the opposition vanished. The speaker traced the analogy between police and medical men. Both work for young and old, rich and poor, sane and insane, drunk and sober. Both call in specialists for difficult cases. Both are using preventive measures more and more. Both should be trained professionals. Police need schools for training just as much as doctors do and such schools are now being started in a small way, to be extended later. In these schools men are taught police procedure, first aid, rules of evidence and other practical things bearing on the duties of a policeman.

After three cheers for Major Chandler and the state police, for the Indian Valley Inn, for Mr. Gregory's boxers and a few other things, the pilgrims returned to Kingston.

WIFE TELLS OF INTIMACY

had been attending dances, and her son, John, always was with them. Called When Husband Was Home.

On re-direct examination by District Attorney Traver, Mrs. Olsen said the women neighbors also came to the house. The men who called also came there when her husband was at home.

The reason she remained at Barringer's house after taking him home, she said, was because she was afraid to go back; she was still at the Barringer house the next day when District Attorney Traver told her she did not have to go back home. She had no money to hire a lawyer for her husband, she said; she had no money whatever.

When She Feared Olsen.

She had had a pistol which she kept in the sideboard. She did not know who took it out. Johnnie, her son, had taken the shot gun upstairs that morning, and she had tried to keep the revolver from her husband so as not to have trouble. Neighbors had not told her the previous night that Oscar had a revolver and was drunk.

"I was not afraid of him until the shooting," she told Mr. Merritt on re-cross examination.

Perhaps Gunning For Skunks.

She had not tried to hide the gun, and she knew that morning he had the revolver. A chicken had been found dead in the coop the previous day and she talked with Olsen about it, but she denied he had said it was probably killed by a rat or weasel or skunk and he would try to shoot the animal. She insisted the chicken died natural. When she looked for the revolver that morning and did not find it she asked Oscar, who told her it was in his pocket.

Questioned further regarding the cider, Mrs. Olsen said she could not remember whether Oscar drank any of the second fall which he had brought up. She said she did not know of any reason why Oscar should have shot Guy.

When Barringer Died.

Miss Hazel Barber, a nurse at the Kemble Sanitarium, where Barringer was brought after the shooting, testified that he had died about midnight of December 31. She heard the alarm bells and whistles sounding just about that time.

Barringer's Dying Declaration.

DuBois J. Gillette, of the district attorney's office, testified to a conversation with Barringer on the afternoon of December 31, when Barringer said he knew he was dying and wanted to make a statement. He was too weak to write, so Mr. Gillette told him to dictate the statement, which was witnessed by himself and two of the nurses.

Barringer's ante-mortem statement was introduced in evidence by District Attorney Traver. It stated that he arrived at the house about 2 o'clock and drank some cider which was neither sweet nor sour; that after half an hour he went outdoors for a few minutes and when he returned to the kitchen he saw Olsen with a gun in his hand. Olsen shot him, the first shot striking his arm. They had not quarreled.

Mr. Gillette also described blood marks in the rooms of the Olsen house and a bullet hole in the wall of the kitchen, over the water pail.

Drunk for Two Days.

Under Sheriff Tunis H. Haulenbeck testified he went to the Olsen house with District Attorney Traver the day after the shooting. The front door was open and Olsen sat at a table. A pail on the table was one-fourth full of cider. He took a revolver from Olsen's hip pocket and arrested him. Olsen was hopelessly drunk then and it was two days before he was able to talk coherently after being brought to jail.

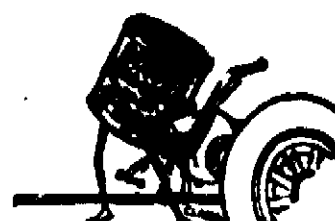

The case was continued this morning.

Sugar Once Considered Medicine.

Sugar was at first sold by apothecaries, both as a medicine and as a thing to sweeten and make other medicines more palatable, for in those days a medicine which was not bitter and nauseous was not considered effective. The sugar habit grew on people, the production was stimulated and today the whole world uses it as food.

ANNUAL FEAST OF FOOD AND TALK

Many Attractions At Central Young Men's Christian Association Meeting On Evening Of May 6—What The Speakers Are.

The annual meeting of the Central Young Men's Christian Association is now getting well under way as to its plans and program for Monday, May 9. A banquet will be served at 6:30 p. m. after which will be the election of directors and a short report of the year's work.

It is very seldom that so many strong men can be secured for an evening as has been done in this particular case. Col. Ashton of Washington, D. C., who is the principal speaker, is a man of wide experience and great ability. His coming to Kingston will mean much to the whole association work as he is well informed as to the association activities as a whole and its tremendous program which is carried out throughout the country.

Galen Fisher who has spent 23 years camping on one job in Tokyo, Japan, is one of the strongest and most forceful speakers in the whole foreign work. Mr. Fisher's knowledge of the Japanese problem is of the best and he will present his subject in a most interesting way. These different speakers have been given time in the program in such a way that the whole evening will prove to be both entertaining and educational. A. G. Bookwalter representing the home work of the international committee has recently come into the Eastern district from Cincinnati, Ohio, and has already made great progress along many lines.

Frank Pearsall, the state secretary for Y. M. C. A. work, is an interesting man to meet. His address will be inspiring, helpful and entertaining. In view of the fact that the educational rooms were crowded at the last year's occasion the banquet will be held in the gymnasium which will be attractively decorated. The seating capacity is limited to three hundred and it is expected that every seat will be taken. Replies are now coming in and all are anticipating a most enjoyable evening.

BIG BILL HAYWOOD NOT IN PRISON

L. W. W. Leader Escaped From Federal Authorities On Way to Fort Leavenworth and is Now in Russia.

Chicago, April 21.—"Big Bill" Haywood, leader of the I. W. W., who was presumed to have entered the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth yesterday to complete the serving of a twenty year prison sentence, has escaped from the federal authorities and is now in Moscow, Russia, according to word received here today by United States District Attorney Charles F. Cline.

Maywood, according to District Attorney Cline's information, sailed on the steamer King Oscar and landed at Riga. It is believed by the district attorney's office that a number of the sixty industrial workers of the world who were to have begun their various sentences simultaneously with their leader was escaped with him. Haywood last was heard of in New York when on March 30 his attorney communicated with him at the Simple Liberty's Society in West Thirtieth street, New York. When the supreme court upheld the I. W. W. conviction a few days ago another effort was made to communicate with Haywood without success.

SPECIAL COURTS FOR DRY LAWS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, April 21.—Attorney General Daugherty announced today that he is considering the recommendation of congress of the establishment of federal commissioners' courts to handle exclusively cases involving the violation of the prohibition law. The federal courts are now "clogged" with these cases, Attorney General Daugherty stated, and it is necessary that something be done to expedite the liquor law violation cases. Particular need for such courts is apparent in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Detroit, Indianapolis and Philadelphia, the attorney general said. The proposed courts would be presided over by a federal commissioner and trial would be by jury.

Free Lecture On Sunday.
On Sunday, April 24, at 3 p. m., daylight saving time, Pastor J. H. Hoelscher of New York will deliver at Mechanics' Hall a free lecture. The three ways prominently mentioned in the Bible upon which mankind must travel will be his topic. The speaker will endeavor to show that the Bible is clear and gives the truth while the dreams of poets and speculations of philosophers are vague and uncertain, compared to the Book of Books. There are no collections at these meetings at Mechanics' Hall, and generally they are well attended.

FOX CAN BE TAMED.
No wild animal is more easily domesticated than the fox, either red or gray, and none exhibits so much sly cunning when tamed, says the American Forestry Magazine, but they are susceptible of a very high degree of affection for whoever has them in charge.

Found a Pot Of Gold.
By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Roanoke, Va., April 21.—An iron pot containing $12,400 in twenty dollar gold pieces, and $600 in silver and several pieces of paper money so disfigured that denominations could not be discerned, was unearthed on a farm near here by Albert Dameron, a young farmer, who served in France and was working for his father for $10 a month. He was plowing when he discovered the money. It is probable that the money has been hidden in the ground for nearly a century, as the latest date on the coins is 1823.

The KITCHEN CABINET

An aspiration is a joy forever. To have many of them is to be particularly rich.

A GROUP OF GOOD CAKES.

A cake which is easy to make if one has a good strong arm to give it the beating it needs is—
WERRY WHITES.—No Werry Whites would have the same and deserve it, who had ever made this cake. Take one cupful of sugar, one and one-half cupfuls of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a speck of salt, sift three times to blend well. Into a measuring cup drop the whites of two eggs, fill the cup to half measure with softened butter, not melted; then fill to the top with milk and water or just water. Pour the mixture from the cup, adding stirring; mix well, then beat with a swing spoon or egg beater for seven minutes by the clock. If Willie doesn't get too weary keep at it for ten minutes and the cake will have the most beautiful texture and grain. Bake in layers, color one and leave one white. Use color selected for layer in the icing which may be used for the filling.

Every Day Cakes.—Beat four tablespoonfuls of butter to a cream, add one-half cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of chopped raisins, two egg yolks, beaten light, one-fourth cupful, each of maple and corn sirup, one-half cupful of milk; add one and three-fourths cupfuls of flour, a teaspoonful of cream of tartar, half teaspoonful of soda, one-half teaspoonful of salt and the same of mace, all sifted together. Lastly add the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs and turn into a shallow pan. Sprinkle with chopped nuts or raisins, and dredge with one teaspoonful of sugar. Bake one hour or longer depending upon the depth of the nature in the pan.

Fig Cake.—Take two cupfuls of fine bread crumbs, mix two tablespoonfuls of shortening with three-fourths of a cupful of sugar, a little salt and nutmeg; stir in two well-beaten eggs and the bread crumbs. Mix four teaspoonfuls of baking powder with one cupful of flour; add one-fourth pound of figs and beat well. Turn into a loaf-shaped pan or one with a crook and bake thirty to forty minutes.

Bread crumbs toasted may be served as breakfast food and will be found a pleasant change from the usual fried foods.

Marie Maxwell

Children Of Mary Bance.

Tomorrow evening, at eight o'clock, the Children of Mary of St. Peter's parish will hold a reception and concert dance in the school hall. It is the first social event of the kind held in St. Peter's since the League season and it is expected that a large attendance will be there to enjoy this novel manner of entertainment. The arrangements for this dance are in charge of the officers of the society and a committee of ten counselors. Ball's orchestra will supply music for the reception and refreshments will be served by the Children of Mary in the school room. The purpose of the dance is to gather funds for a summer picnic of the organization toward the Junior Fund. All interested persons and friends are expected to be present to help along the good work.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE XXXVII.—NEBRASKA

THE INDIAN name for the Platte river was Nebraska, meaning "shallow water" and from this came the name of the state. A nickname for the state is the Blackwater State.

Of the early Spanish explorations little is known, except that Coronado probably reached the great plain of this region in 1541. More than one hundred and twenty-five years later Father Marquette noted the Platte river on his trip up the Missouri. In the beginning of the nineteenth century the Lewis and Clark expedition skirted the boundaries of the present state and in 1805, Manuel Lisa established the first trading post at Bellevue. This was just after the Louisiana Purchase had brought Nebraska into United States territory.

Omaha was established as a post of the American Fur company in 1825 and Nebraska City the following year. With the California gold rush in 1849 many pioneers passed through Nebraska and some stopped and settled there although there was a law forbidding settlements among the Indians. The real colonization boom, however, started with the passing of the Kansas-Nebraska act in 1854, which arranged that those two sections should become free or slave states at the dictate of their inhabitants. The Nebraska territory was then organized and reached from the fourth to the forty-sixth parallel. In 1861, the region north of 43 was made into Dakota territory. The Idaho territory was also created, which reduced Nebraska to its present size of 77,320 square miles, except for a slight addition in the Northwest which was made in 1882.

In 1897 Nebraska was admitted as the 37th state over the president's veto. It has eight presidential electors.

A SYMBOL OF PROSPERITY

It is good business to wear diamonds, whether you be man or woman. It is a sign of success. But it is more than that: the brilliance of the gem reflects the clear and good fellowship that means so much in daily relationship in business or society. There is no vulgarity in jewelry when modestly worn. Especially our artistic jewelry.

DODGERS AND REDS BREAK EVEN

This is the Result of First Match—
Playing List Revised — Giants
Lead With the Reds Close Second.

The National Bowling League presented some very interesting games Wednesday evening on St. Peter's Lyceum alleys. The fast Reds bowled the promising Dodgers, bowled on a fifty-fifty basis and the Braves and Pirates each won one game. The honors of scoring high for the evening were presented to John A. Murray, who rolled an excellent game, totaling 232 pins. The players on all sides showed much enthusiasm, as can be seen by the scores that follow:

Dodgers.	1 G.	2 G.
Charles Gassen	107	145
James A. Sass	113	134
John A. Murray	232	169
J. Philip Beichert	159	127
Carl Laicher	150	156
Total	761	731

Reds.	1 G.	2 G.
M. Zellnar	128	150
E. Joseph Long	83	131
John Raible	148	167
Joseph Disch	154	161
Thomas Burke	134	171
Total	647	780

The score of the second match was not recorded.

This evening there promises to be some very fast bowling when the leading Giants cross fire with the fast Reds, who are on the former's heels all the while, and the trusty Phillies will clash with the Pirates, who are always gaining ground. The list of players of the various teams has been revised, and any man assigned to a team cannot play on another team. The revised list follows:

Giants—John Benkert, captain; the Rev. Joseph D. Ostermann, Casper Ketterer, John Reis, John Swint. Reds—M. Zellnar, captain; John Bellie, Thomas Burke, Joseph Disch, E. Joseph Long.

Dodgers—Joseph Bruck captain; John Tansky, John Winters, Henry Kelsch, John Carter.

Phillies—Paul J. Sass, captain; Cornelius Fox, Joseph P. Zeeb, Frank J. Lierer, Andrew Juhl.

Dodgers—Charles Gassen, captain; James A. Sass, John A. Murray, Carl Laicher, J. Philip Beichert.

Pirates—Louis Stock, captain; Peter Snider, Frank Weiss, Robert Brasse, Glenford Kraus.

The present standing of the league shows much interest is taken in the tournament and is as follows:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Giants	3	1	.750
Reds	4	2	.664
Braves	3	3	.500
Phillies	2	2	.500
